Noise protection

To avoid damage to guests and employees, we comply with our duty of care for safety measures and have limit values for noise emissions.

The rating level is the L(A)eq. The benchmark for the rating level is 99 dB for every full half hour. The guideline value is also considered to have been met if the averaged rating level over a period of up to 2 hours does not exceed 99 dB.

In addition, the peak sound level L(C)peak must be limited to 135dB. Compliance with the guideline values must be verified by measurements.

A class 2 sound level meter is sufficient.

A calibrated sound level meter is not required.
